R3 Curriculum

In support of the 2024 release of the National Hunting and Shooting Sports R3 Practitioner's Guide, the Council has developed a comprehensive R3 Curriculum designed to support professional development and implementation of R3 best practices. This instructional resource consists of nine interactive learning modules that reflect core components of successful R3 strategies.

These modules are structured to serve a wide range of applications, including new staff onboarding, volunteer training, partner workshops, and internal capacity building. Each module is self-paced and may be completed independently or used to facilitate structured group discussions and trainings.

To begin, create a free account using the link below. Once registered, users will have full access to all available modules at no cost.

AVAILABLE LEARNING MODULES:

- R3 Foundations
- Adaptive Management
- ORAM Mapping
- R3 Planning
- Program Design
- Marketing
- Evaluation I
- Evaluation II
- Volunteer and Mentor Management

Each module is designed to be practical, actionable, and aligned with the R3 movement's national priorities. Completion of this curriculum equips practitioners with a foundational understanding of R3 principles and the tools necessary for effective implementation.
